

Dispute Resolution

Arbitration

Arbitration is for many companies the method of choice for resolving international and cross-border disputes. The attractiveness of arbitration, versus litigation or Alternative Dispute Resolution, is enhanced by the flexibility, confidentiality and wide enforceability of awards.

Arbitration offers companies the opportunity to resolve disputes away from the national courts, but specialist knowledge of the process and tactics is essential to ensure the right result.

Drawing on their skills and knowledge, our arbitration specialists help our clients achieve success. Arbitration forms a key element of our comprehensive dispute resolution service. We have experience of advising under LCIA, ICC, UNCITRAL, AA '96 and other rules. In particular, over the past couple of years we have handled a number of complex ICC and LCIA international arbitrations.

Our experience has been gained through advising clients across the globe. Our work covers a range of sectors, including commercial, construction, engineering, aviation, IP, manufacturing, insurance, real estate, sport, technology and utilities.
